

Is Faith Bible Seminary's extension site at First Baptist Church of Waldoboro a good fit for you? Answer the following questions to help you determine if it is.

- Faith Bible Seminary admits students every three years—2013, 2016, etc. Will your plans and availability mesh with one of these time periods?
- Faith Bible Seminary has a primary purpose of training young men for pastoral ministry. Do you demonstrate a passion for the pastorate? Do you have the ability to make a three-year commitment for equipping and training? Do you have a local church that recognizes your gifts and abilities for pastoral ministry and is encouraging you to be involved in full-time pastoral ministry?
- Faith Bible Seminary is a graduate level M.Div. program. Do you have a Bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university?
- Faith Bible Seminary is requiring that students be relatively debt-free upon entrance and exit of the seminary program. Are you free from enslaving debt?
- Can you relocate to midcoast Maine for three years?
- Are you willing to commit to practical, hands-on ministry experience in the local church (FBC Waldoboro) while receiving academic training?
- Do you agree with First Baptist Church's statement of faith?
